

I do not want the reporting of information that I depend on to keep me connected to my community, country, and world being presented through one person's/corporate filter. This is not what a democracy embodies.

Corporations have the right to make money, but not at the expense of freedom of information.